

C125.M Stages of Change – The Trans-Theoretical Model (TTM) Beginning Level for All

Date/Time:

Tuesday, December 7, 2021; 10am-12pm

Location:

Live Interactive Webinar: Zoom

Please see Live Interactive Webinar Requirements and Instructions for additional details

Course Description:

This course will offer a review and practice of James Prochaska and Carlos DiClemente’s Transtheoretical Model for change (Stages of Change). The Trans-Theoretical Model of Change proposes that individuals move through six stages of change in relationship to physical health, substance use, and mental health related behaviors. This training describes how individuals move through the process of change and will introduce treatment strategies/interventions that can be used depending on which stage of change a person is in. This course will describe each of the Stages of Change; give examples of language indicators for each stage, and stage appropriate treatment strategies.

Course Facilitator:

Kayleen DePue, PhD, MA, LPC, CCS, CADC, has been working as a Trainer within the Workforce Development department since 2011. Kayleen’s career has included providing residential & outpatient case management, counseling, and group facilitation, as well as, clinical supervision and clinical systems management.

Course Objectives:

The student will demonstrate the ability to:

- A. Describe the Trans-Theoretical Model of Change.
- B. Describe the characteristics of people in each Stage of Change.
